Probably the two most frequently mentioned Dahlias the past year have been 'GENERAL EISENHOWER,' a vivid red Belgian cactus (see page 12) and 'IKE,' an American dark red miniature formal variety. (see page 5) Not every man has had two such outstanding Dahlias named in his honor.

Could it be that all the Dahlia Fans voted for General Eisenhower, giving him the largest popular vote ever received by a presidential candidate?

Miniatures

UNDER FOUR INCHES IN DIAMETER

All of this group are low growing plants and especially free blooming, with good stems. Very satisfactory for table decorations or small baskets. This list will stand comparison with any issued in America.

Miniatures are furnished in strong field roots, post-paid. Fifty cents each; $5.00 per dozen, except as noted.

OUR OWN INTRODUCTION

THE BERLET—Miniature Peony Flowered. Named in honor of Robert E. Berlet, first president of the Central States Dahlia Society, who gave very generously of his time and talents to the advancement of Dahlias. A seedling of the Bishop of Llandaff. Fairmount Trial Garden says of it: "Velvet scarlet crimson all the way through. Lots of bloom, making this entry a very promising new variety. Score 85." Petals leathery and flowers may be cut when only half open. Roots, $1.00; 3 for $2.50.

Early Flowering Dahlias

This group average about two weeks ahead of other varieties and are apt to be over size.

Eleanor—A low plant with the foliage practically hidden by the brilliant orange crimson formal flowers.

Fred Springer—A wonderful bedding variety. The plant makes a whorl of fern-like leaves surmounted by a mass of brilliant red formal flowers.

Marie de Groot—A seedling of Ostergrusz. Rosy lavender; free blooming on good stems.

Ostergrusz—(Easter Greetings) Creamy white cactus bloom, waxey stem. Free blooming, good stem, desirable for cutting.

Roots of above 75c each, except as noted.

DAHLIAS

A Few Suggestions as to Culture

Not intended for the "Fan" who can spend hours mixing formulas and testing new remedies.

BY J. T. FITCHETT

Proper division of the roots at planting time, water and cultivation are essential to the successful growing of dahlias.

WHEN TO PLANT.

Plant out when all danger of frost is over—about corn planting time. If received too early, roots should be placed in sand or soil and may be started indoors.

Growers in the South may plant early in April and have dahlias in bloom early in June. When the heat gets them and the plants cease to grow freely and the stems become hard, then cut the plants back, leaving only two joints above ground. Keep cultivated and they will start a new growth which should give a fresh crop of bloom in October. This may seem heroic treatment, but it works out all right.

WHAT TO PLANT.

If you have old clumps, split them into as many divisions as possible with one or two sprouts on each. Do NOT pull the roots off but split the old stem and the crown (where all the eyes are located) with a sharp knife. It is as reasonable to plant a whole ear of corn as a whole clump of dahlias. A large division will produce too many tops and only poor flowers. The roots we send out are divided ready to plant. Don't worry about a small root, all you really need is a sprout or eye. A root without an eye is worthless.

WHERE TO PLANT

Best place to plant is in the vegetable garden where they can be cultivated. Spade or plow ground fairly deep. Dig a hole six inches deep, put back a little loose dirt, lay the root on its side with sprout up and cover with about an inch of loose dirt. Pour in a quart of water to settle dirt closely around the root. Sprinkle a level tablespoonful of Vigoro in a circle around where the sprout will come up, but not so as to come in contact with it; then nearly fill the hole with loose dirt. This leaves a slight depression around the stem, which is an advantage in watering. Two feet apart in the row and three and a half feet between rows is about right. If soil is heavy or rich in fertilizer, a shovel of coal ashes may be worked into each hill before planting. This will tend to keep the soil from packing and, being utterly devoid of fertilizer value, will tone down the over rich soil. Dahlias planted in a soil rich enough for roses or peonies will make a rank growth and not come to bloom as early as they should. Put a wooden label with the name written heavily in lead pencil beside each plant. It's half the fun of growing them to know their name when they bloom.

Green plants should have the ball of earth wet and the roots loosened, then plant as deep as dormant roots

If plants are small, only partly fill the hole and complete the job as they grow. Shade for a few days.

CULTIVATION.

Rake the ground thoroughly as soon as planting is completed and repeat this raking every week until plants are large enough to shade the ground. If the season is dry, water thoroughly at night once a week and rake the ground the next morning. Flowers are produced on the soft growth, and if through neglect your plants have become hard and woody, better cut a part of the top off and start over again.

FEEDING.

At planting time use plant food as directed under "Where to Plant." When flower buds begin to form, apply a level tablespoonful of Vigoro around each plant in a circle starting two inches from the stem and extending out ten inches and work it lightly into the soil. This feeding should be repeated every two or three weeks. Do not let the plant food touch the stalk or leaves.

DISBUDDING.

Larger flowers may be produced by removing the smaller buds usually appearing on either side of the main bud. Also remove the side branches as soon as they start at the first three joints immediately below the terminal bud. Miniatures and Poms are better grown without disbudding. Their glory is their profusion of medium sized useful flowers.

INSECT PESTS

One of your worst pests in a dry season is the Leaf Hopper, a very small insect which sucks the sap out of the under side of the leaf and flies away as soon as you brush against the plant. The leaves appear mottled and tips turn brown, like potato vines with "hopper burn." The new insecticide DDT is very efficient in the control of leaf hoppers and most other pests except aphids and red spider. Use either spray or dust—according to the directions. BUT, "Get 'em early." We have found ENDOPEST a good all purpose dust. Apply to under side of foliage about every ten days. There is something in it for ALL your pests.

KEEPING FLOWERS

Cut flowers early in day if possible, trim off surplus foliage and put ends of stems in HOT water for a minute after which they may be put in cold water in the usual manner. Fresh flowers treated in this way last much longer and wilted ones are much revived by it. Do not get hot water on flowers or leaves. Keep out of draft.

STORING ROOTS.

After a killing frost, let the roots ripen for a week, then cut off tops and dig the clumps of roots carefully. Label each variety and pack clumps in boxes on floor of vegetable cellar. If after a few weeks they seem to be too dry the roots may be covered with papers or sand. Do not divide clumps until spring.

Herewith is our Catalog for Spring, 1954. The pink sheet lists those we tried out last season. Most were satisfactory. Autumn Brocade, Kameleon and Arc de Triomphe were especially good. Hill's Pink Supreme was all Friend Hill claims for it. Decoy still led the Miniatures.

This year we are adding more of the popular Barwise varieties as well as some new Miniatures from England. A group of new Hollanders, large and small, are already in our cellar, and we have the promise of a wonderful collection of new introductions from an old grower-friend in Japan. "Come over to our house" in the fall and see them!

In spite of rather stiff advances in shipping costs, we are still prepaying postage on orders--cutting down on cost of catalog.

A SEXTET FOR SIX DOLLARS (Accompanist free)
Decoy, MFD gold, red tip; Plentiful, MID bronze;
Anna Maria, MFD orange; Diamant, MFD copper red;
Ostergrusz, MC white; Red Baby, Pom red; Bishop of Llandaff, MPeo scarlet, red foliage.
